ABILITY REQUIRED OF AUTO MECHANIC

State Board of Examiners Distributing Application Blanks

That the motorist may be protected from the inefficiency of untrained automobile mechanics and repair men, and that craftsmen may be protected from inefficient competition, the state board of auto mechanics examiners, created by the last legislature, is distributing application blanks looking to the early examination and licensing of every auto mechanic in the state.

The examining board, E. E. Boggs, president; H. R. Fancher, vice president and M. L. Graning, secretary-treasurer, will have its headquarters in Portland, where application blanks may be obtained by addressing box 761, although applicants for examination may secure blanks from their county clerks, or from local garages. Examinations will be held later in 15 centrally located cities in the state and will cover various specialized activities of auto trades as well as the usual lines of motor repair work.

The board will examine with written, oral and manual tests, prepared, President Boggs declares, in an understandable manner, and the applicant may be examined in any or all subjects for which he, in his opinion, is qualified. Upon completion of the tests the applicant will be rated according to his ability in at least three classes.

Deeming a purely theoretical examination unfair to many excellent mechanics who have had no theoretical training, such tests be omitted. The classification of mechanics will serve the dual purpose of giving credit where credit is due and to act as an incentive to others to increase their knowledge and efficiency in their crafts.

Mechanics who fail to take the examination will be subject to a penalty of $100. The examination fee will be $5.00.

ITALIAN CHILDREN AFE GIVEN FOOD

How long could a youngster live on a piece of dry bread and an orange twice a day?

That is the ration on which 600 children of Italian soldiers have been fed at the Riceratorie, a place maintained by the Alleanza Femile or Woman's Alliance, in Palermo, Sicily, to take care of soldiers' children from three to 10 years old, during the daytime while their mothers are working.

That is what the children were eating before the American Red Cross representative visited Palermo and increased the funds of the Alliance so that at least a bowl of soup could be added to each child's meal. The Red Cross built a kitchen where the soup could be cooked, and in addition gave 50,000 lire toward housing some of the 9000 refugees in western Sicily and 60,000 lire more to aid the wives of soldiers.

It is a heavy task for Sicily, poor enough at best, to care for its 22,000 refugees as well as the families of its own soldiers' children, of whom there are 9000 in Palermo alone.

Naturally the aid of the Red Cross has been received with great gratitude, and the little black-eyed youngsters who stream into the Red Cross dispensaries with their mother to get the milk, rice and meat which are distributed, have already learned to look upon America as a mysterious and wonderful big brother.

"FRANGLAIS" IS NEW LANGUAGE

"Français" is a new language that you hear in France today. The word is made out of "francais" and "anglais"—the French words for French and English—and the language itself is made out of a fearful jumble of words that were perfectly good when they played by themselves but don't always mix.

Français is what you hear where American and English men and women without a very good knowledge of their host's own speech find themselves at work alongside of French men and French women—soldiers, nurses, relief workers, shopkeepers and all sorts of folks.

American Red Cross workers say that when you gather up several hundred little French babies who had hardly begun to speak any language at all, and several hundred little ones who are speaking the

CASH FOR SOLDIERS INSTEAD OF FARMS

Congressman W. D. Boies of Iowa, urges that the government give all soldiers and sailors of the big war a cash gift instead of farms. He insists that the farm for soldier idea is "primarily backed by men who have swamp, stump and arid lands to dispose of."

universal and universally incomprehensible language of babyhood, the results are one degree harder than grown-up English.

But somehow the French babies and their American caretakers get on just wonderfully together.

476 WORE TOO SMALL SHOES

The doughboys undoubtedly wore more sensible shoes during the war than they did as civilians. Notwithstanding an inspection among feet and shoes of 1087 soldiers in the 16th Pennsylvania infantry showed corns, 750; callouses, 1059; toes jammed or crowded, 636; hammer toes, 16; ingrowing nails, 762; bunions, 613; good feet, 290; men wearing shoes one-half size too small, 290; men wearing shoes one or more sizes too small, 476; men wearing shoes too large, 131. The Word Painter
Mr. Smith, dissatisfied with his house, put the sale of it in the hands of an agent.
A few days later he saw an advertisement of a house exactly answering his needs. The more he read of its beauty and comfort the more anxious he was to secure it.
So he called up the agent with: "There is a house advertised by 'A. B. C.' See 'A. B. C.' and buy it from him."
"Sorry," was the laconic reply. "But I'm 'A. B. C.' and the house is your own."

Chronic Constipation
Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.
